

UNITED FRIENDS OF THE CHILDREN

college within reach

This full day of college preparatory activities offers high school aged foster youth, caregivers, and service providers information and resources about preparing for and applying to college with the goal of helping students realize that college is an achievable option for each and every one of them.

The day's workshop topics range from the steps of high school planning to living on a college campus, paying for college and more. The day will also showcase services and resources specifically for foster youth during the lunchtime resource fair. This exciting event helps to provide participants with the necessary tools and information for them to embark on the college application process with every chance for success.

High school and community college students are invited to:

- Interact with current college scholars and alumni who were, until recently, in similar situations to you.
- Participate in interactive workshops and learn from experts on what it takes to go to college.
- Get your questions answered about the college application process.
- Learn the good news about how you can pay for college through financial aid.
- Check out a resource fair with people there to meet your unique needs.

Special workshops and sessions are provided for caregivers and service providers as well.
